Description

This image depicts a large construction site in Albuquerque, New Mexico. In the foreground of the image a large dirt parking lot can be seen in front of the partially completed building. Numerous cars of all types can be seen in the parking lot. Powerlines can be seen running through the center of the parking lot amongst the vehicles. Beyond the cars, the metal frame of the building can be seen on the right side of the frame. The portion of the building on the left side of the frame is closer to completion. This portion is covered in off-white colored stucco and rows of windows have been put in. Six different construction cranes can be seen sticking up above the building in differing locations.
